

ECHOES and sound walking

A journey of possibilities

Josh Kopeček 23/04/2026

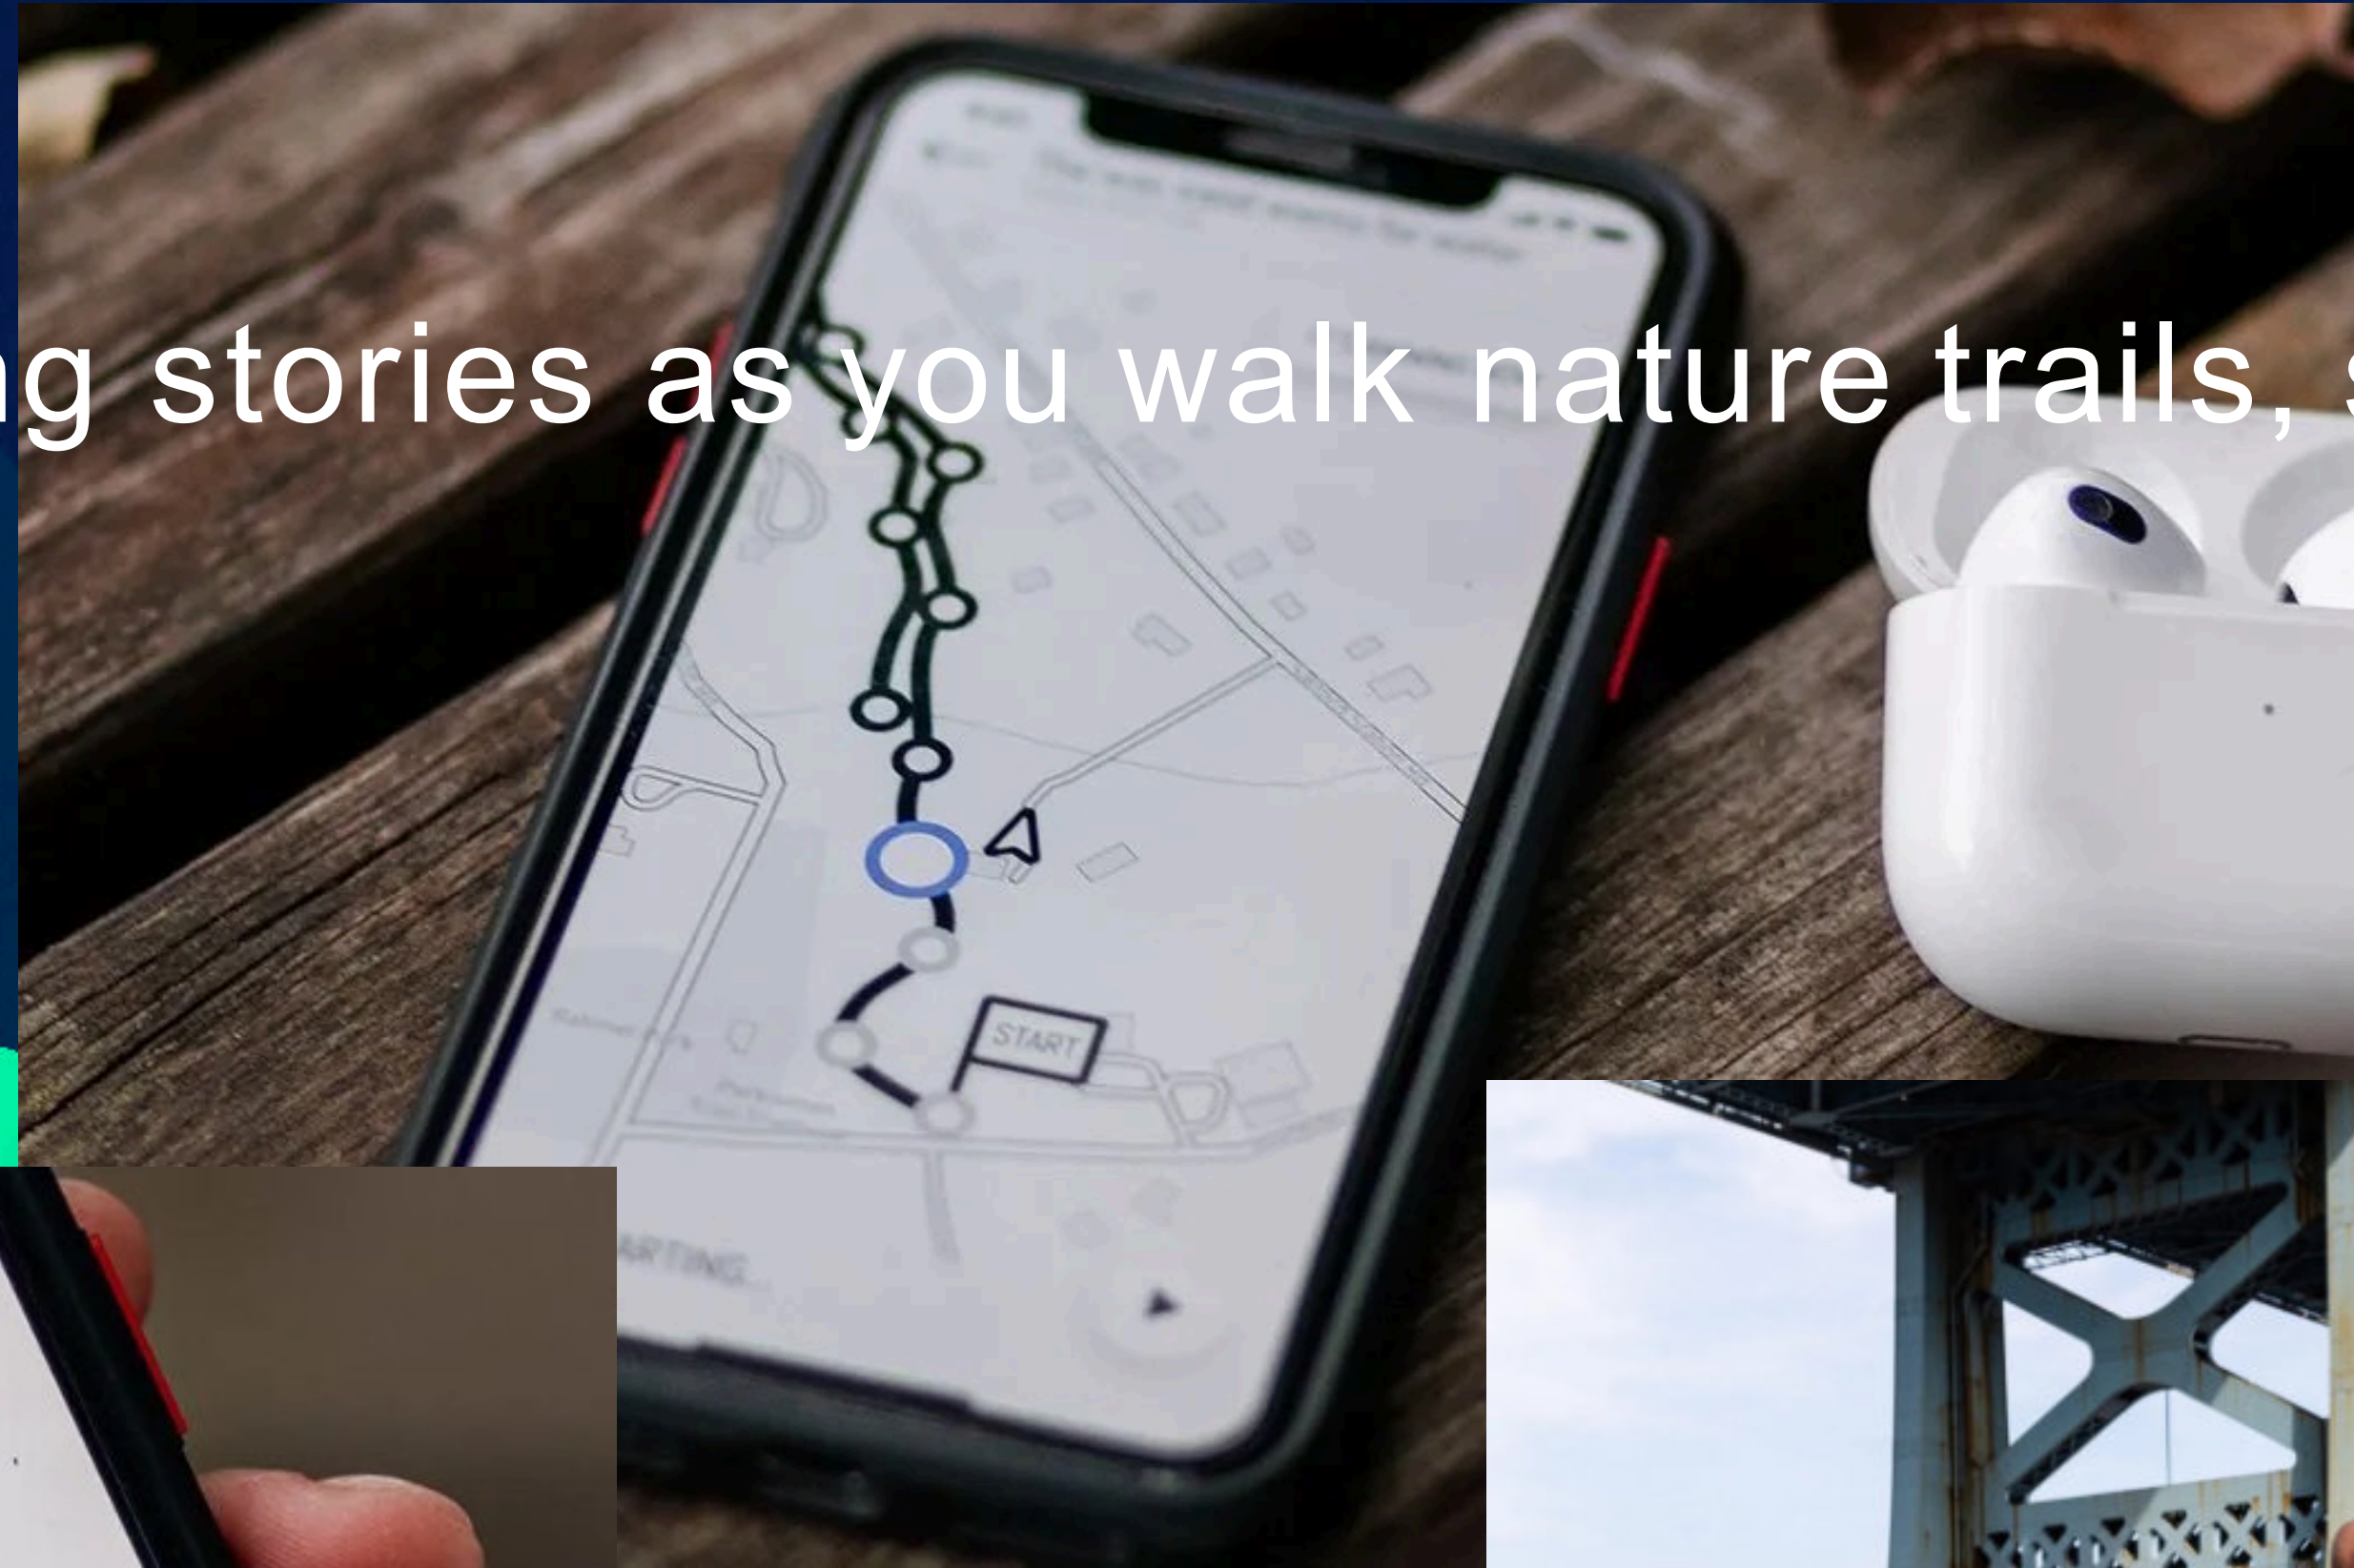

City of Floating Sounds

Walking symphonic audio piece

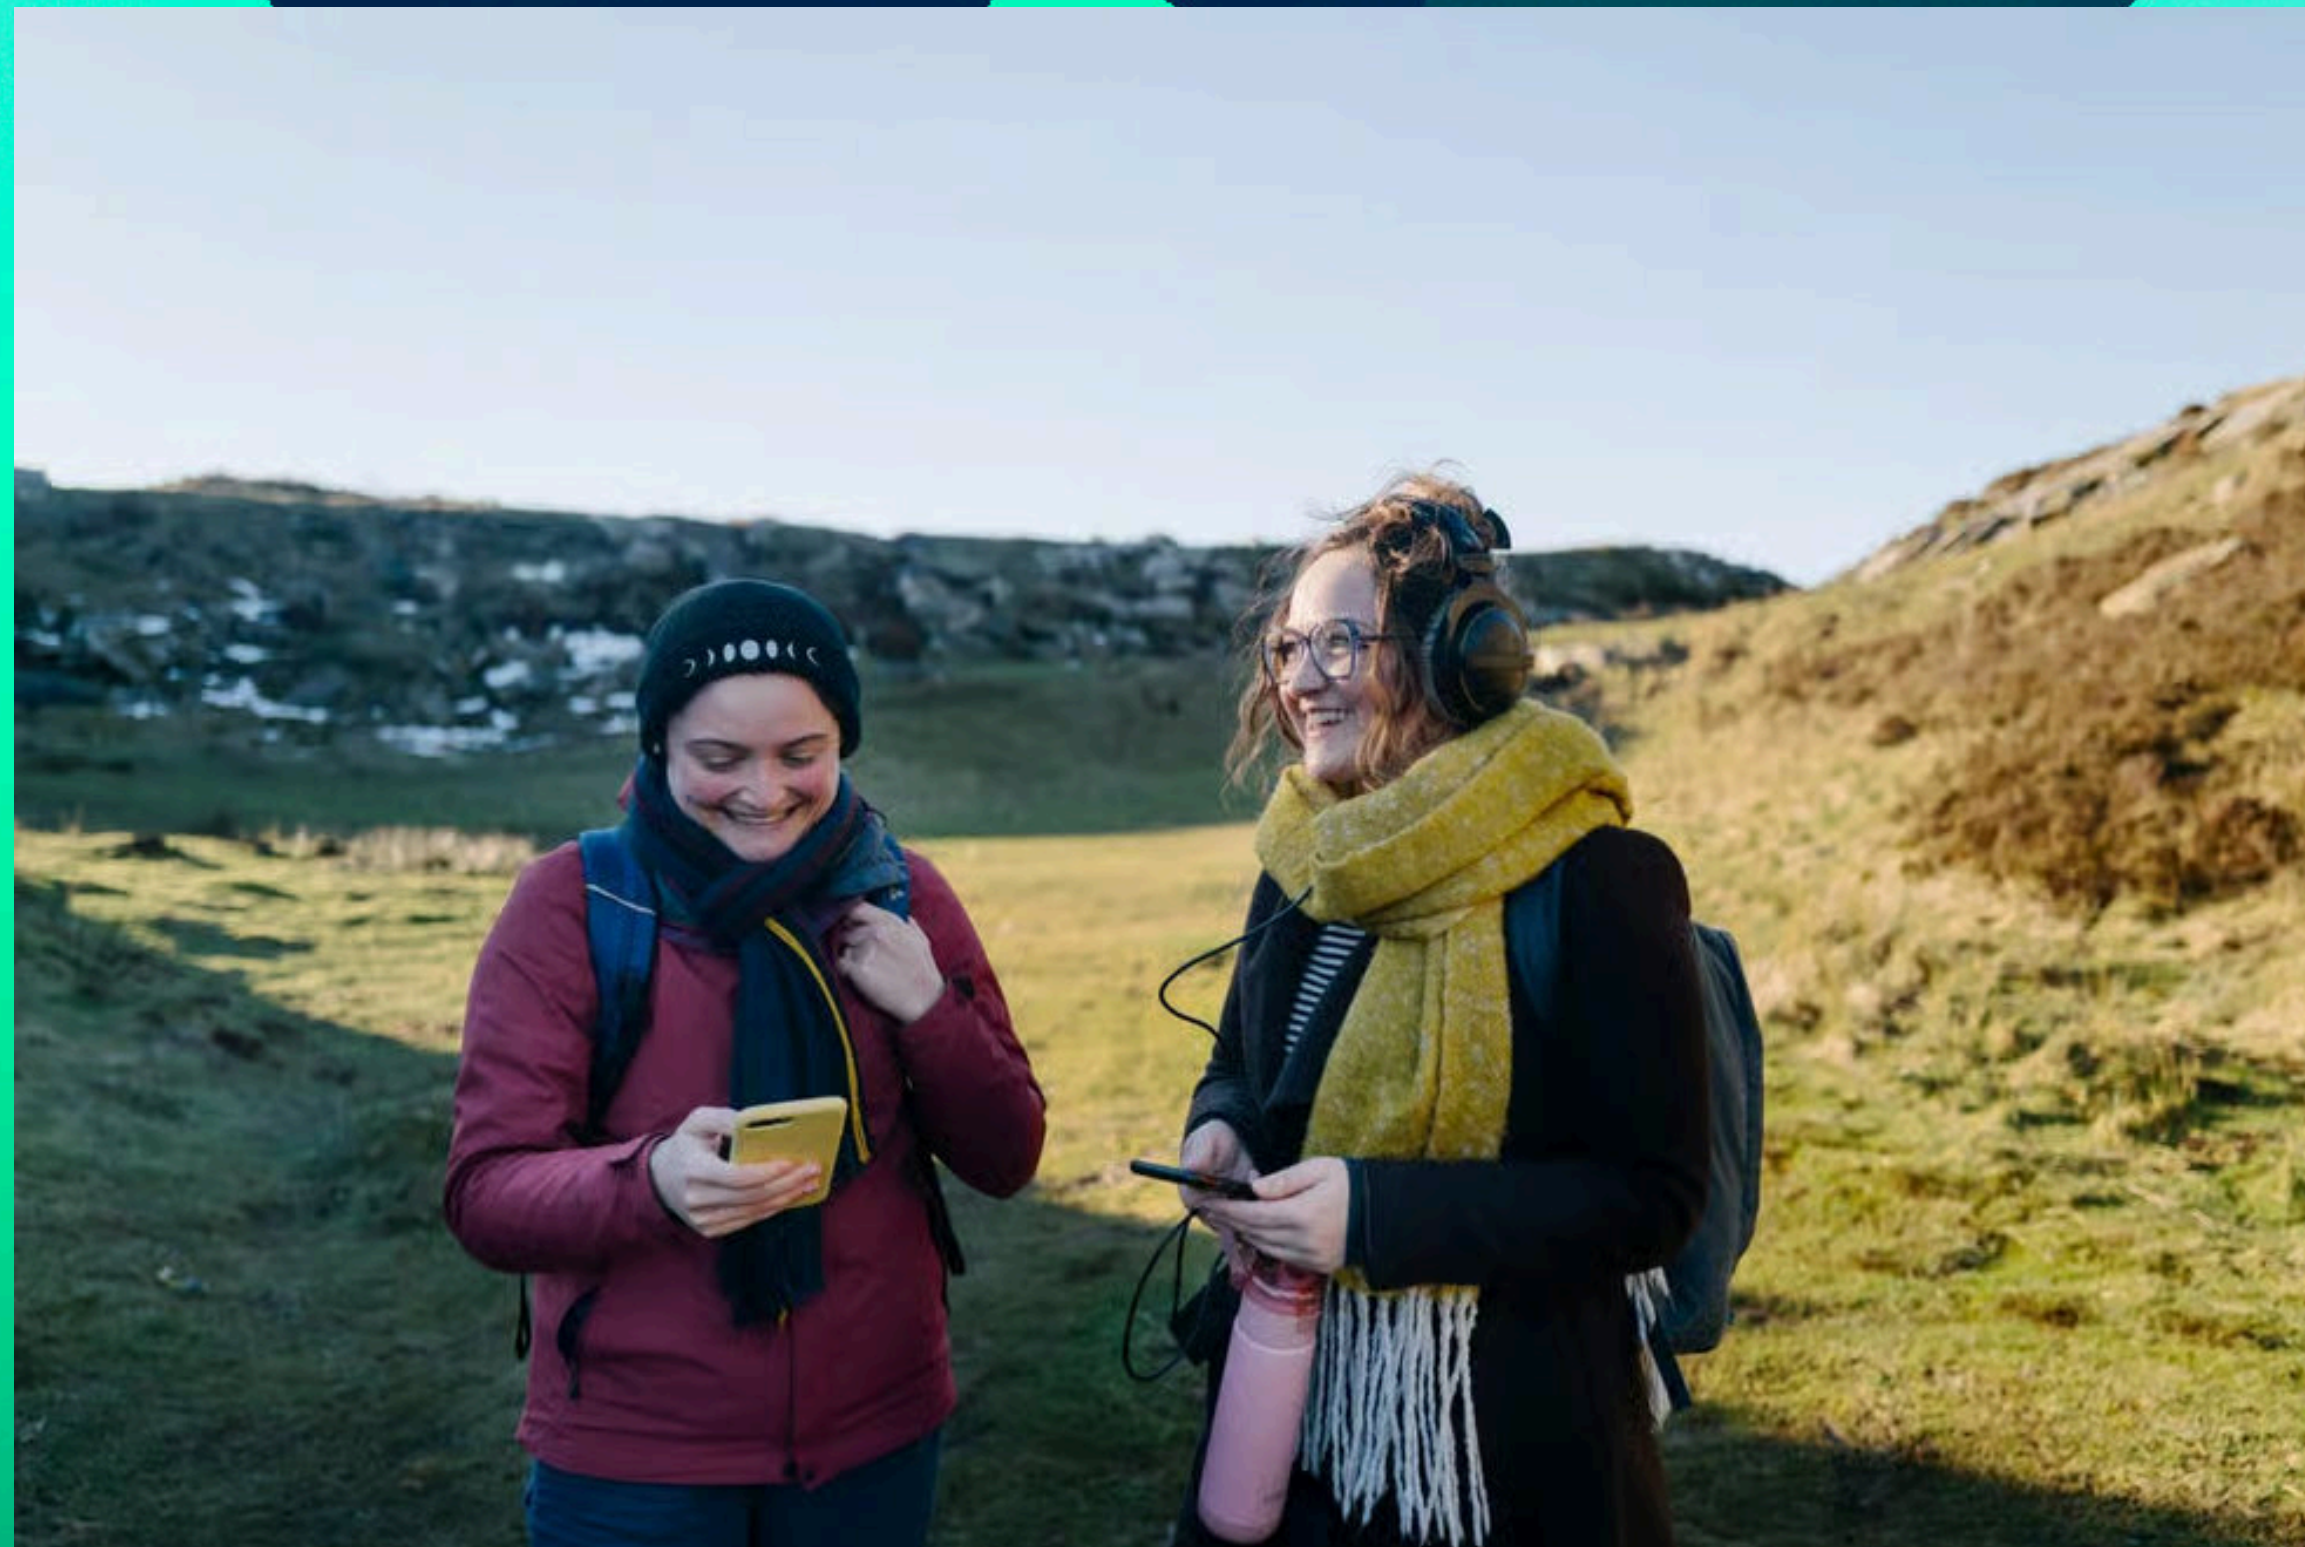

TrailOff

Dive into captivating stories as you walk nature trails, synced to you in real time!

Earth & Sky

3 composers, a sound artist and a poet explore the Brontës' landscape. Influenced by the composition of Delius.

ECHOES

Sound walk publishing platform

ECHOES my walks profiles

Create a profile now!

TITLE
Documenta14 - Aneducation - Visual Sounds Athens Conservatory

DESCRIPTION
How can we "see" an exhibition through its vibrations? How can we listen to the artworks through someone else's ears? Can we conceive a visit to an exhibition as a listening experience?

PUBLISH STATUS
Public

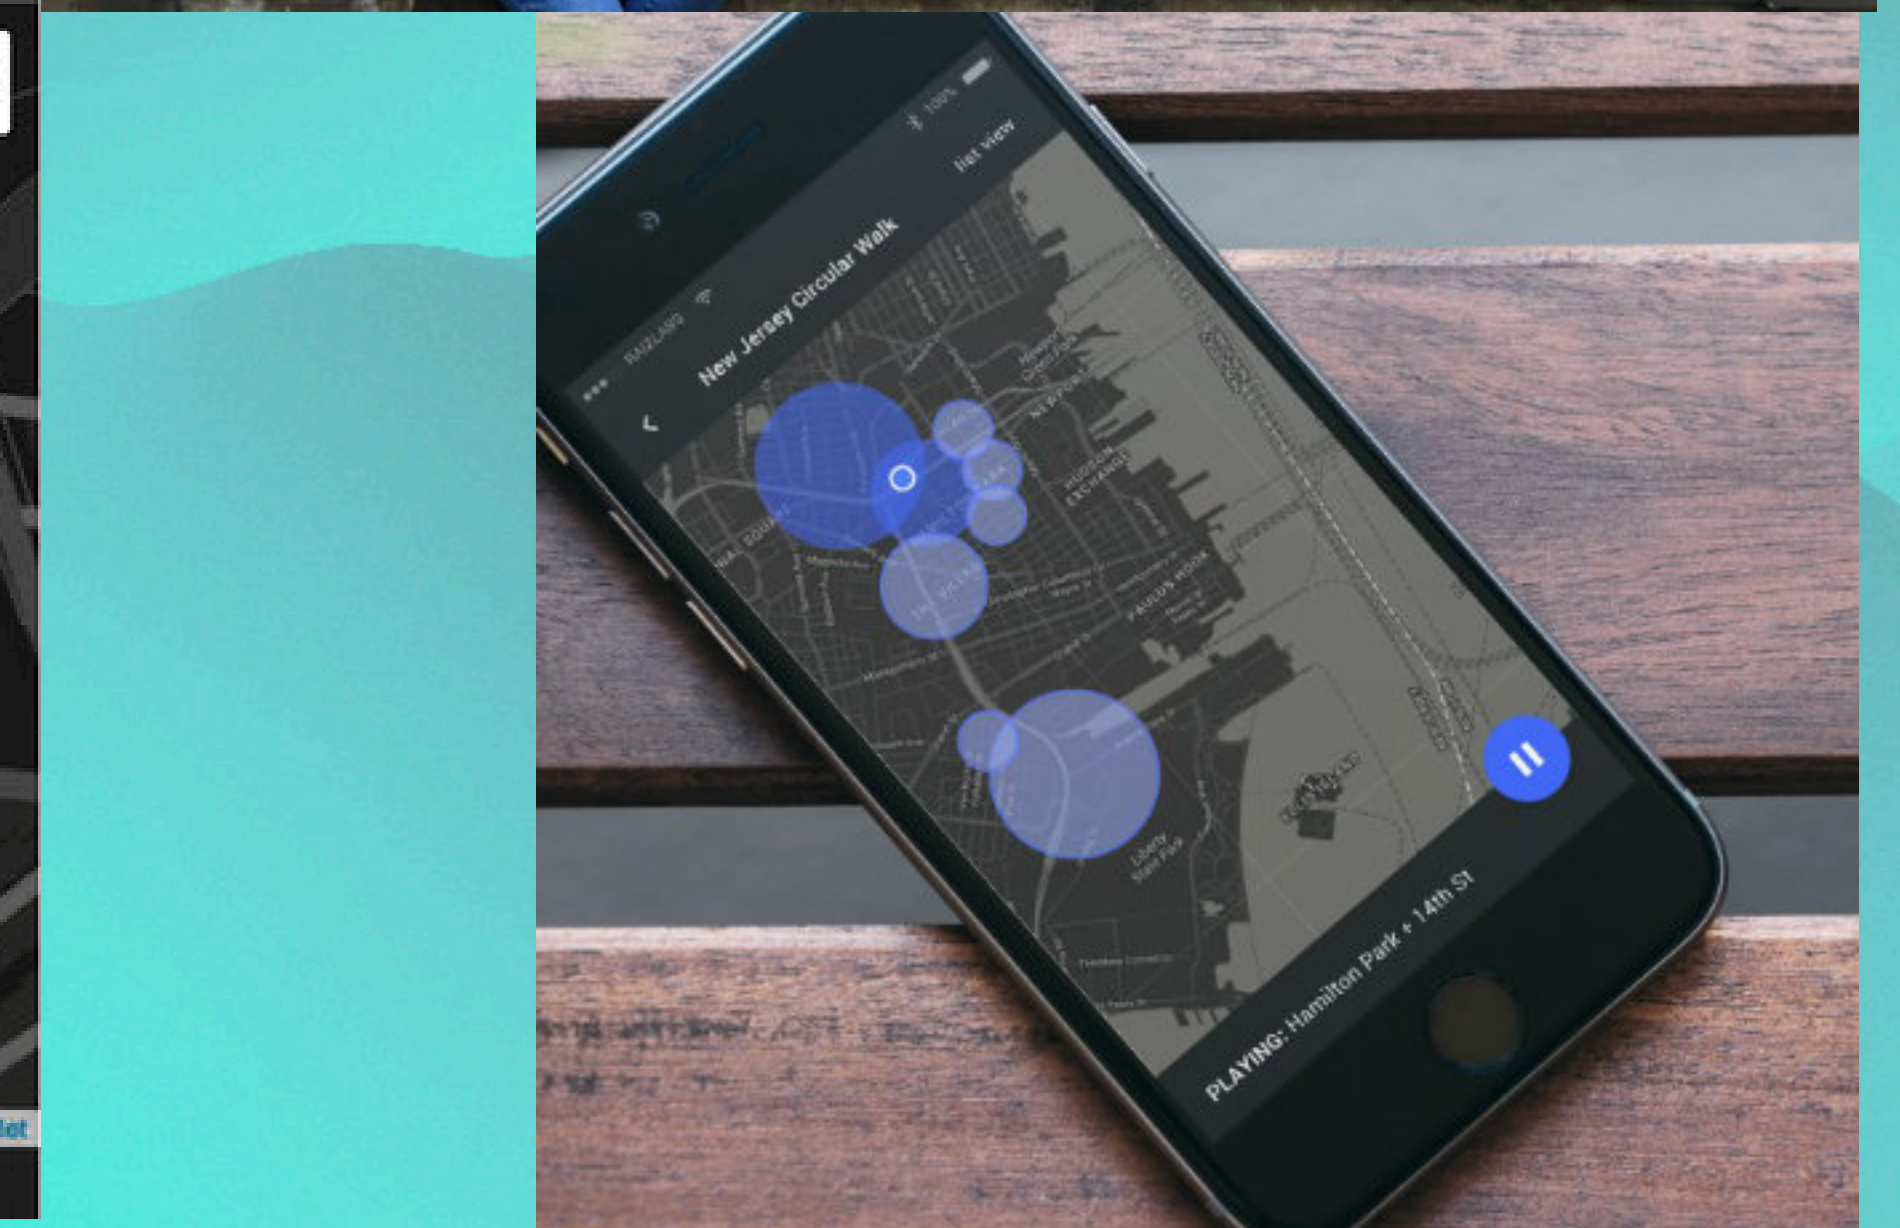

When you click save, this collection will be publicly accessible

Are you interested in selling your walk?
Interested in making money from your walk? To start the process, just register your interest

version 1.13.25

Jump to a place

A map view of the ECHOES interface. The map shows a street grid with several blue circular markers of varying sizes, representing sound walk locations. A blue line connects some of these markers, indicating a path. Landmarks like 'Aristotle's Lyceum' and 'National Hellenic Research Foundation' are visible on the map.

Links

Useful references

- <https://echoes.xyz>
- <https://walklistencreate.org>
- <https://factoryinternational.org/whats-on/huang-ruo-city-of-floating-sounds/>
- <https://trailoffquicklook.com/>
- <https://www.operanorth.co.uk/whats-on/earth-sky/>
- <https://cardiffmiller.com/>
- <https://www.duncanspeakman.net/about/>